Know where to go if you think you have
COVID-19 OR THE FLU

Symptoms of COVID-19 and the flu are very similar. Knowing when you should go to an assessment centre for a COVID-19 test or to a cough and flu clinic to help diagnose your symptoms will help you get the right care, in the right place.

Visit a COVID-19 assessment centre if you:

- Have COVID-19 symptoms such as:
  - Fever (37.8 degrees Celsius or higher)
  - New or worsening cough
  - Sore throat

- Meet provincial COVID-19 testing criteria

- Need a COVID-19 test but do not need to see a doctor in person

If you need a COVID-19 test for a child under the age of 1, please visit your nearest Emergency Department to get a test
